Japanese Declare Russia Quitting Amur Islands

Ambassador Says Agreement Possible Because No Manchukuoan Boats There

Soviet Has Eyes On Europe Events

MOSCOW (AP)—The Japanese ambassador at Moscow, Mamoru Shigemitsu, announced tonight that the Russian government had agreed to withdraw its troops and gunboats from the disputed islands in the Amur River, boundary stream between Manchukuo and Siberia.

Shigemitsu said the agreement for evacuation called for withdrawal of 20 gunboats assembled near the islands.

The promise to give immediately the withdrawal order was made after Shigemitsu had officially informed Soviet Foreign Commissar Litvinoff that no Manchukuoan gunboats were concentrated there.

The envoy added "It remains to be seen if the order will be carried out."

An earlier dispatch from Moscow said:

Usually competent Moscow observers, reviewing the rapid developments in the situation, declared the immediate question was whether the Japanese army or Manchukuo would respond to Soviet proposal for simultaneous demilitarization of the danger zone on the northeastern border of Manchukuo, where it joins Siberia.

The Soviet government had announced early today it would withdraw its armed forces from the area, already the scene of one skirmish, if Japan would follow suit.

The Russian announcement, made in a Foreign Office communique, insisted, however, that Japan and Manchukuo recognize that the Soviet has a claim to the disputed islands.

Japan has declared the islands belonged to her ally, Manchukuo, and had refused to concede the "invading" Russian force had any legal standing.

If the Japanese would withdraw, the Soviet statement declared, Russia would be willing to begin negotiations on rede-

Score Of Miners Killed In England

Two Explosions and Fire Cause Deaths Near Stoke-on-Trent

STOKE-ON-TRENT, Eng. (CP—Havas)—Twenty-two men were feared killed tonight in two explosions and a fire at the Byrno Chesterton coal mine near here.

Only four bodies had been recovered tonight. Eighteen others were missing. Others, seriously injured, were brought to the surface and taken to hospitals.

The second explosion occurred as rescue squads began work after the first. Four rescue workers were killed in the second blast.

Fire then broke out. One member of the rescue squad said he had seen 14 bodies lying huddled below.

EVENT AT WORK
It was believed 70 men were working at the face of the mine when the disaster occurred.

Among the victims were: John Pinks, joint managing director of the Shelton iron, steel and coal company; H. Finney, senior inspector of mines; J. Bloor, sub-inspector of mines; and H. L. Atkins, under manager.

Alberta Fires Are Controlled

EDMONTON—Forest fires that destroyed seven bridges in a 10-mile stretch 63 miles north of Lac la Riche, halting the weekly Alberta Railways train to Waterway Tuesday and forcing dispatch of reserve repair crews to the area Wednesday were reported to be under control along the right-of-way today and train service would be resumed July 14, company officials estimated.

Siberia Border Village Burns

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—An unconfirmed report from Heilho, Manchukuo border town, said today a mutiny appeared to have broken out among Soviet army troops stationed in a village opposite Tapingnan, about half way between Blagoveshensk and Khabarovsk.

Houses in the village were ablaze and many inhabitants were killed, the report said.

Spies in Russia Are "Liquidated"

More Than 70 Diversions Working For Estonia Rounded Up

MOSCOW (AP)—Leonid Zakovsky, chief of the Leningrad secret police, announced today the arrest and "liquidation" of more than 70 persons who allegedly acted as counter-revolutionary spies and "diversionists" for the Estonian intelligence service.

"The alleged leader of the band, whom Zakovsky identified only as 'K,' was said to have been killed by a Soviet secret agent near the frontier when he resisted arrest."

Enjoying Longest Strawberry Season on Record

A late spring and a lot of rain in June has made the strawberry season one of the longest on record. Hundreds of young people, some of whom are shown in the above pictures, will earn pocket money for another week yet picking berries, most of which will be shipped to manufacturers in Vancouver. A deal recently completed with a mainland canning company has relieved the strawberry situation which was aggravated by the tremendous influx of jam berries owing to the wet weather. Only a few barrels of surplus berries are left and fruitgrowers' managers feel sure they can find an export market for these.

Timmins Mob Is Broken Up After Long Night Riot

Clubs, Water and Tear Gas Used Against Crowd in Ontario Town

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Tear gas, water and clubs were used by police early today to disperse a shouting mob which smashed windows in the town hall and demanded release of three men held under arrest by Timmins police.

The three were arrested at the end of the Dominion Day and Old Home Week celebrations here.

Police said they recognized several leaders of the crowd and were prepared to arrest them today.

More than 300 persons are estimated to have participated in the four-hour siege. They were dispersed by a squad of constables with clubs after tear gas and showers of water had failed.

The crowd began to gather shortly after midnight when police arrested the three transients on vagrancy charges.

Passersby swelled the crowd and leaders began throwing stones at the police station housed in the town hall. When a policeman opened a door he was showered with missiles.

The barrage increased until almost every pane of glass in the east and south sides of the building was broken.

Mayor J. P. Bartleman and Chief Ralph Paul endeavored to reason with the leaders of the throng, but were greeted with jeers.

FIRED UP AGAIN

Firemen were called and several tear gas bombs were hurled from the police station into the crowd. The bombs cleared a space in front of the building for a few minutes, but it quickly

Rain Cuts Fire Toll in Forests

The recent rainy weather has been of great benefit to forest fire fighters throughout the province, according to the weekly report of the forest branch which shows only 13 fires during the week.

This season so far the coast area has had more fires than last year, while the interior has been much better off. In the Vancouver forest district, which included Vancouver Island 98 fires are reported to date against 69 last year.

NEW LEAD IN CHILD MURDER

Inquest on Three California Girls Interrupted As Worker Sought

INGLEWOOD, Cal.—The inquest into the kidnap-killing of three Inglewood children, Madeleine and Melba Everett and Jeanette Stephens, was suddenly cut short in Los Angeles today while investigators here concentrated in a search for a Works Progress Administration worker.

District Attorney Buron Fitts terminated the inquest after three witnesses had testified, and the coroner's jury returned a brief verdict that the deaths were due to strangulation by some person or persons whose identity has not been determined, "and with homicidal intent."

The newest suspect known as "Eddie" worked on a number of projects in Inglewood within the last year.

Freedom Mr. King's Topic In Paris

Premier Speaks at Opening of Canadian Pavilion at French Exposition

PARIS (CP)—In Paris today Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared strongly for freedom within the British Commonwealth of Nations.

It was at the opening of the Canadian pavilion at the Paris Exhibition. It was his first speech since he returned from Germany and Belgium, and his last before leaving for home tomorrow.

To many in Europe, he said, it might seem the fact Canada had her own legations in certain countries, as she had in France, was "indicative of desire on our part to go off on our own and possibly separate in some way from the British Isles."

"People who hold that view mistake entirely the bond that holds the peoples of the British Commonwealth," the Canadian government head declared. "Freedom is the essence of our life within the British Commonwealth of Nations. We like to manage our own affairs. We cooperate with other parts of the British Empire in discussing questions of mutual interest."

"The fact we have our own representation in other countries is evidence of that great liberty and freedom which, above all, we prize, and were it imperilled by any source whatever would bring us together in preservation of it."

In the pavilion Mr. King was surrounded by things Canadian. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

NEWHAVEN, Sussex, Eng. The steamship Gambian, owned by Lever Brothers of Toronto, collided early today with the Russian vessel Ziryanka 17 miles from this port. Both were able to proceed to Southampton, accompanied by the Newhaven lifeboat and a Southern Railway tug which went to their assistance.

The Gambian, on her maiden voyage, was launched at Wesermünde, Germany, April 10, and was on her way to Burutu, Southern Nigeria.

JEWEL THIEVES TAKE $100,000

New York Society Woman Victim of Armed Holdup in Street

NEW YORK—A quartette of jewel thieves invaded fashionable Beekman Place early today and at gunpoint stripped a society matron of jewelry valued at $100,000.

The robbery was carried out only a few doors from the apartment house where Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton, victim of last year's sensation bath tub murder, was strangled.

Mrs. Josephine Ogden Forrestal, socially prominent victim of Manhattan's latest jewel robbery, told police the bandits took two platinum bracelets set with diamonds, and two platinum rings.

They did not take anything from her escort, Richard B. W. Hall, a broker, overlooking $700 he had in his pocket.

As Mrs. Forrestal and Hall arrived at the entrance to her apartment in Hall's chauffeured limousine and alighted, the bandit car drove up, they related. Before Frederick Tucker, the chauffeur, could open the car door for Mrs. Forrestal, one of the robbers put a gun against his side.

Another bandit climbed into the car and pulled the bracelets from Mrs. Forrestal's arms and the rings from her fingers. The other two robbers stood on the opposite side of the car.

OTTAWA—Robert Telford, son of a former member of Parliament and brother of W. P. Telford, present member for North Grey, Ont., died Thursday.

COSGRAVE LEADS AT IRISH POLLS

DUBLIN (AP)—Meagre reports from Cork on the Irish Free State's vote for President tonight gave William T. Cosgrave's opposition party a slight lead over President Eamon de Valera's government ranks.

The first count in Dublin indicated that Lord Mayor Alfred Byrne, Independent, and Oscar Traynor, Minister for Posts and Telegraphs, were elected to the Dail (Parliament).

MONTRAL—About 100 Irishmen sailed from here today aboard the liner Duchess of Bedford to attend the Ulster Reunion. Canadian head of the party is H. Joyce, Regina.

Pilot and Navigator Short of Howland Island, Pacific, As Gasoline Fails

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States Coastguard officials announced the cutter Itasca was preparing to search for fliers Amelia Earhart and Capt. Fred J. Noonan, who radioed at 11:12 a.m., P.S.T., they had a half-hour's fuel and could not see land.

The fliers had long been awaited on the 2,570-mile flight from Lae, New Guinea, which they left at 4 p.m., P.S.T., Thursday, expecting to make the flight in 18 or 20 hours.

An hour previously, Miss Earhart reported the plane was 100 miles from the cutter Itasca, stationed at Howland Island, but the fliers were unable to sight the island.

The hop was part of their round-the-world flight.

The Itasca prepared to search for the plane northwest of the island.

Howland is a small island a short distance north of the Equator and about 177 degrees west longitude, or slightly east of the meridian which is known as the international date line.

STEEL STRIKE TRUCE IS HOPE

As Ohio Plant Opens Under Army Guard, Peace Expected in Indiana

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (AP)—Thomas R. Hutson, Indiana state labor commissioner, said today his "personal opinion" was that a truce would be reached soon providing for reopening of the strikebound Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company Calumet district plants "some time next week."

PLANT OPENS IN OHIO

WARREN, O. (AP)—The Republic Steel Corporation defied a Committee for Industrial Organization picket siege and reopened another strike-locked plant at Massillon today. There was no violence.

Gates of the concern's central steel division swung open, under protection of steel-helmeted Ohio national guardsmen, for the first time since the strike started May 27.

Non-strikers, in about 115 automobiles, quietly drove inside.

PARIS (CP)—The Associated Press today said French Foreign Office sources had confirmed reports France and Great Britain had determined freely to supply arms, munitions and airplanes to the Spanish government unless Germany and Italy change their attitude on non-intervention in Spain.

Officially labelling such action as a "resumption of normal commercial relations," persons close to Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos, the Associated Press said, indicated Spanish Foreign Minister Jose Giral Pereira had come to Paris to make arrangements for delivery of war materials if and when such action was taken.

Spanish government officials declined to discuss Giral Pereira's visit, and also reports that Spanish government Premier Juan Negrin was coming to Paris.

DEADLOCK TODAY

London (AP)—Europe's "hands off Spain" conference, stalemated over opposing proposals for isolating the civil war, tonight decided to call in all 27 non-intervention powers—for a full-dress review of the situation next week.

That was the upshot of a meeting of the chairman's sub-committee which found:

1. Germany and Italy formally rejecting French proposals for full naval control of the non-intervention situation around Spain by the British and French fleets, and Italy and Germany making counter-proposals for granting of belligerent rights to both Spanish sides.

2. France and Great Britain's rejection of the granting of belligerent rights, which would give the Spanish insurgents a standing under the international rules of war.

The sub-committee will meet again next week. Then the Earl of Plymouth, the British chairman, will call the full Non-Intervention Committee into session.

Germany and Italy, which recently recalled their ships from the Spanish patrol, today proposed that belligerent rights be

Skipper George Dibbern of Te Rapunga Says Sea Only Life

Thirty-one days out from Honolulu, the Marconi-rigged yawl Te Rapunga, registered at Kiel, Germany, and skippered by George J. Dibbern, German-born but New Zealand by adoption, sailed into Victoria harbor yesterday, terminating a 55,000-mile roaming cruise of the high seas which began seven years ago.

The other members of the Te Rapunga's crew are Roy Murdoch, the mate, and Eileen Morris, a comely, dark-haired young New Zealand girl, who took a course in stenography and decided that the sea would be "a new adventure which was too good to pass up."

She confessed to signing on as "brass boy," but discovered multifarious duties before the cruise was far advanced into the broad reaches of the Pacific.

By the time the 32-foot craft reached here, "Brass Boy" Morris had learned to take her watch at the tiller and her mates discovered to their joy that she was an excellent cook.

The adventurous trio left Auckland, New Zealand, two years ago, and after lazing through the South Seas finally reached Hawaii, where they found it so much to their liking that they stayed a year.

the exhibits of industry, agriculture and mining covering the Dominion from sea to sea. Almost immediately behind the pavilion stands the great structure of the Eiffel Tower. Across the way lies the British pavilion. Beyond, dominating the exhibition, rise the figures of Russian workers flaunting the hammer and sickle at the eagles of Germany immediately opposite.

Senator Fernand Chapais, French Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Marcel Labbe, general commissioner of the exhibition, were there to wish success for Canada.

"May the pavilion," Senator Chapais said, "strengthen the friendship between Canada and France which has contributed so much to the cause of peace."

TRADE EXTENSION

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Justice, was confident the trade negotiations opened between Canada and France would be carried to a successful conclusion. Canada was prepared for mutual trade with all nations. She looked to better understanding and to the establishment of durable friendships.

The official party was welcomed by Oscar L. Boulanger, Member of Parliament for Belchasse, Que., who as Canadian exhibition commissioner-general at the exposition, was in charge of arrangements for the opening ceremony.

The Canadian pavilion conforms in design to a Canadian grain elevator, in keeping with Canada's pre-eminent position as a wheat raising country.

The sculpture, besides showing some of Canada's representative animals, such as the bison and the beaver, includes plaques depicting the various primary industries of the country—agriculture, lumbering and mining.

The exhibits include handicrafts—past and present—wheat, timber, minerals, pulp and paper, foodstuffs, tobacco and manufactured goods.

C.C.F. TO NAME HOUSE LEADER

Convention in Vancouver to Decide Status of Elected Members

VANCOUVER (CP)—Early this evening 200 delegates to the fifth annual convention of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, British Columbia section, will start business discussions to determine the path of C.C.F. activities for the next year.

The party, which elected seven candidates at the June 1 provincial general election, will have all but two electoral constituencies represented at its convention.

Northern Atlin and Interior Cranbrook have not sent delegates. A heavy agenda has been prepared. Besides voting on about 150 resolutions submitted to the conference by different C.C.F. units delegates will elect a president and executive officers for the ensuing 12 months and choose a leader for C.C.F. members of the Legislature.

Executive sources today said Arnold Webster, Vancouver school teacher, who unsuccessfully opposed G. G. McGeer, M.P., in Vancouver-Burrard federal riding in 1935, would probably be elected to presidency of the party in British Columbia.

They said, however, there was some doubt whether he would accept the nomination.

The same sources said Dr. Lyle Telford, present head of the provincial party organization, would allow his name to be submitted to the convention for re-election, but that he did not desire a second term in the presidential chair if some one could be found to take his place.

Officers said discussion of merging with the Communist Party to form a "popular front" of labor organizations in the province would form a prominent subject of discussion.

Divergence of opinion through C.C.F. units has been shown by opposing resolutions presented by various branches. Vancouver Island, Fraser Valley and Okanagan Valley groups have shown themselves in favor of formation of a united front. Various other groups, including the Hastings East club in Vancouver, call for a restoration of confidence in C.C.F. executive policy of "complete political independence" for the party.

Was Prominent In School Life

NANAIMO — John Shaw, 73, prominent in British Columbia educational activities for 55 years, died here today. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Shaw, who was chairman of the Nanaimo School Board up to January this year, began his teaching career on Salt Spring Island in 1882, coming to Nanaimo two years later.

In 1887 he was made principal of the local school in which he taught, and nine years later became supervisor of all schools in Nanaimo. He retired from the latter position in 1908.

A life member of the Provincial Teachers' Association, of which he was president in 1918, Mr. Shaw was also an active Mason.

Steel Strike Truce Is Hope

About 300 pickets booed and jeered but were kept away from the plant by the troops.

The reopening left Cleveland the only city where Republic's sprawling mills are closed completely. Reopening of the four Cleveland units is expected next week.

Only a few hours before the company's newest "back-to-work" move, the home of a non-striking employee was dynamited at nearby Canton. The blast ripped the rear porch off the home of Matt Perich, but injured none.

Republic ignored a C.I.O. picket captain's deft:

"If they try to open this plant, they are in for a bloody fight."

Five hundred troops were moved in to forestall such an eventuality.

AT JOHNSTOWN

At Johnstown, Pa., Sidney B. Evans, management representative at Bethlehem Steel's Cambria works there, said the working force was "virtually complete." The works normally employ 15,000. Strike leaders have consistently charged that company figures were "greatly exaggerated."

The "back-to-work" movement was under way all along the five-week-old strike front—from Johnstown, with its recent history of martial law, dynamiting and aroused citizenry, through the Ohio mill cities of the Mahoning Valley, and up to the western terminus of the Indiana-Illinois Calumet area.

But the strike in seven states, with its record of 13 dead, 250 injured and $30,000,000 cost, still was on.

U.S. Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood at Columbus has set next Tuesday as the date for hearing of the union's appeal for a temporary restraining order against the troops.

filled in again as the gas drifted away.

Efforts of the fire brigade to disperse the mob by use of a fire hose were foiled when two false alarms were rung in from distant sections of the town.

Shortly before daybreak police officials decided a quick rush on the group of leaders would be effective. Seventeen officers armed with riot clubs, joined in the assault and scattered the crowd. None returned to the area.

NOT KNOWN IN TOWN
The three prisoners are being held in jail here until their arraignment next Tuesday. It is reported they are unknown to most of the persons who demonstrated for their release.

Several persons were arrested during and after the demonstration on charges of intoxication and police intimidated charges of inciting riot might be added in some instances.

The town hall siege concluded a boisterous Dominion Day celebration closing a four day Old Home Week in which hundreds of old-time prospectors participated.

marcation of the frontier line along the Amur.

EYES ON EUROPE
Foreign observers considered the Soviet Foreign Office was playing for time and in some quarters the belief was advanced that even should Japan in the end force the issue and military action occur, the Soviet would capitulate to keep the trouble localized.

These observers pointed to the European situation. The key to immediate developments, however, was held to lie in withdrawal of Soviet troops from Sennufu and Bolshoi, the two islands that control the channel of the Amur River.

Unless this was done, observers declared, it appeared the Japanese Kwantung army in Manchukuo would take things into its own hands and attempt forcibly to eject the Soviet troops.

MOSCOW COOL

Moscow generally was cool, however, with most observers inclined to believe the real danger had passed.

Russia's answer to repeated protests lodged by Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu against "invasion" of Manchukuo territory declared:

"The Soviet side is ready immediately to give the necessary order to retire its armed forces should a similar order be issued on the other side.

"If it should turn out there are no Japanese boats there now, as Ambassador Shigemitsu asserts, then Russia assures the ambassador that the Soviet patrols will be withdrawn and thus the question settled."

TOKIO (AP)—Officials of the Japanese government declared today the Russo-Japanese crisis caused by alleged Soviet invasion of Manchukuo was "a matter for the supreme command (of the army) to decide."

This development, putting solution of the tense situation in the hands of the army, came as influential politicians demanded the cabinet break off diplomatic relations with the Soviet government.

Russia, the Japanese army charged, had repeated the invasion of the Manchukuo border which led to the outbreak of hostilities for possession of the barren sandspits that control the Amur River. The meandering Amur is the northeastern boundary of the Japanese-inspired state of Manchukuo, where it borders on Siberia.

In Hainking, the capital of Manchukuo, authorities were reported to have begun an immediate discussion of forcible means to cope with the grave situation.

An electric atmosphere was said to prevail through all Manchukuo as a result of the whirlwind developments of the last few hours.

The statement solution of the crisis lay with the army came as an answer to Russian proposals to withdraw her troops from the disputed Amur area if Japan would do likewise.

REPORT ON PLANES

Dispatches from Hainking charged Russia, instead of withdrawing her troops, again invaded Manchukuo territory at 3 p.m. Thursday, when three Soviet airplanes flew low over Sennufu Island, in the Amur River, and disappeared in an unidentified direction.

Simultaneously, army spokesmen declared, five Soviet gunboats invaded Manchukuo waters near the scene of the naval battle Wednesday which brought the long-brewing border trouble to a boil.

Despite three hours of negotiations yesterday between envoys of the two countries, the situation was considered here to be deadlocked. Officials frankly regarded it as critical.

As the cabinet met, members of the influential radical Seisanto, or National Production Party, demanded the government break off relations with Russia immediately.

SPAIN CRISIS TO BE FORCED TO DECISION

accorded both the Spanish government and the insurgent regime.

Both Germany and Italy stated they were "resolved to maintain the principle of non-intervention."

The German-Italian counter-proposals said:

"The two governments are conscious of the real difficulties of the situation and think that all the more their duty to all is to seek new ways and methods to make non-intervention as effective as possible."

The two powers then proposed that "all interested powers agree to grant to the two parties in Spain belligerent rights."

Germany and Italy declared that "the patrol system by four powers has utterly failed" and the two combatants in Spain, with their own ships and acting with belligerent rights, could establish "an effective form of patrol."

They said that by receiving a status under international rules of war, the warring sides would "assume towards neutral states full responsibility for the conduct of warfare in the air, on land and on the sea."

In the face of non-agreement for the time being on the Italo-German counter-proposals, France and Great Britain were reported to have formulated a firm stand that might lead even to abandonment of the whole scheme for isolating Spain from men and arms.

It was understood the Italians and the Germans today advocated maintenance of an international land patrol of Spain (they are particularly desirous there be control of any arms shipments to the Spanish government across the French frontier.)

France and Great Britain, in turn, insisted that a naval patrol of Spain's coasts should also remain an integral part of any non-intervention scheme.

This brought no agreement from the Fascist and Nazi representatives, although they said they were willing to consent to maintenance of international supervision of shipments at Spanish ports and the embarkation of neutral observers on merchant ships bound for Spain.

If belligerent rights were granted in the Spanish war, the embattled sides would acquire, for the purpose of hostilities, the rights and obligations of independent states. Now most nations, with the exception of Italy and Germany, technically regard the insurgents as a group of rebellious subjects of the Spanish government.

Belligerents have the right to halt and search neutral merchantmen, but revolutionary forces do not.

ALL AROUND SPAIN

PARIS—Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos was reported today to have informed the Chamber of Deputies foreign affairs committee France and Great Britain might override Italo-German objections and create an extended Anglo-French patrol around all

France and Great Britain possibly would put the proposal to vote of the Non-intervention Committee in London despite Italian German claims of power to veto such a scheme.

Italy and Germany withdrew their warships from the navy cordon around Spain last week and turned down a proposal for British and French warships to fill the gap.

M. Delbos told the foreign affairs committee the situation was "very serious" but not "tragic."

Later official spokesmen declared France and Great Britain would not "bargain" with Germany and Italy, and that France and Britain would refuse to recognize the Spanish insurgents as belligerents.

U.S. GREETINGS TO CANADA

President and Lord Tweedsmuir Exchange Messages On Dominion Day

OTTAWA (CP) — President Roosevelt sent birthday greetings to Canada Thursday evening and his good wishes were reciprocated to the people of the United States by Baron Tweedsmuir, the Governor-General.

"Individually and collectively, we pledge you the continuation of warm friendship," the President declared in a broadcast from his home at Hyde Park, New York.

From the British cruiser York in Quebec harbor, Lord Tweedsmuir thanked Mr. Roosevelt for his greetings and to Canadians addressed this message: "Let us remember today that her (Canada's) destiny is not to be a mere territorial expression and not to be merely nine provinces, but to be a single and indivisible nation."

The broadcast, carried over national networks in Canada and the United States, was arranged by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

President Roosevelt said: "On behalf of the government and people of the United States it gives me sincere gratification to extend a word of greeting to our Canadian friends and to congratulate them on the 70th anniversary of Canadian Confederation.

"Through the years that have elapsed since that memorable July 1, 1867, we of the United States have watched with the keenest and most sympathetic interest the splendid progress of the Canadian nation, which in ever-increasing measure commands our respect and inspires our affection. Individually and collectively, we pledge you the continuation of our warm friendship.

"I do not know of any greater gift in the power of nations or of individuals to bestow.

"This friendship between our two people is secure from every hazard of destruction or misunderstanding because it is based upon a common aspiration to maintain, to defend and to perpetuate the democratic form of constitutional representative government. In that spirit I salute our neighbor of the north."

"Lord Tweedsmuir said: 'On behalf of the people of Canada I most warmly reciprocate the greeting of the President of the United States. . . .

"We are neighbors and friends and we are also colleagues. We are both North American peoples with the making of a new civilization in our hands. We have both behind us a living European tradition which must be the basis of that civilization. And we are both coming to realize that we have certain responsibilities to the world at large, which may still be difficult to define, but which it is probable will have much in common. Marching in the same direction towards the same goal, I hope and believe that more and more we shall come to pool our ideas about the problems of the world."

U.S. Secret Agents Arrest Boston Man For Letters Threatening President

BOSTON — Photography and chemistry were used by United States secret service agents in the 16-month investigation which was climaxed with the arrest of Morton D. Wainwright, 72, of Winthrop, on a charge of writing threatening letters to President Roosevelt.

Secret service agent Alonzo H. Rice, in charge of the investigation, today detailed the routine which finally led agents to the Wainwright home to arrest the elderly man, who, Rice said, was a former U.S. marshal in Seattle, Washington.

Wainwright was arraigned on Thursday before U.S. Commissioner Harry N. Guterman and was ordered held in $5,000 bail for hearing July 6.

Rice said all the letters sent to the President, some of which threatened death, were enclosed in envelopes from which the name of a Boston firm had been deleted.

By intricate photographic and chemical processes, Rice said, the name was deciphered and examination of present and former employees of the firm was started.

Wainwright, authorities said, did not sign the letters in his own name and it was only a few days ago that he was included in the investigation. Comparison of his handwriting with that in the letters resulted in his arrest Thursday.

Federal men said they were also tracing crank letters sent to Ethel du Pont, who on Wednesday became the bride of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Stop March Of Doukhobors

NELSON, B.C. — A British Columbia police inspector who said he "meant business" and backed it up with two carloads of provincial police, broke up a projected Doukhobor march in this west Kootenay city Thursday night.

Inspector John Macdonald and his constables met the Doukhobor column of some 300 marchers at Bonnington, 10 miles south of here, and told them to disperse. The Doukhobors, who had stopped to dry clothing wet by a heavy rain which drenched them most of the five miles they marched since leaving Shoreacres, starting point, hastily gathered up their belongings and turned homeward.

Some of the marchers carried banners declaring the police had jailed their "Doukhobor" "God," apparently referring to Peter Verigin, Doukhobor leader who is in the Nelson jail serving a three-month sentence for vagrancy.

Police said the column was composed of members of the orthodox Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, Sons of Freedom ousted by the community some years ago, and independents.

Purpose of the march was unknown to them police said. It started about 12 hours after two houses had been burned and a Canadian Pacific Railway switch damaged between here and the Shoreacres area.

Both houses were fired between 2 and 3 a.m. and were razed without leaving a trace of how the fires were started.

The railway switch was partly damaged about the same time by a stick of dynamite, but police said the damage was not enough to prevent the westbound train passing. Replacement of several ties would repair the damage, investigators said.

To Teach Trades In City Schools

The provincial government will establish occupational centres at King's Road and Kingston Street Schools, following granting of permission by the City School Board.

Young men will be accommodated at the King's Road and will be taught carpentry and joinery. At Kingston Street girls and young women will be taught dressmaking, millinery and art-craft work.

The board has accepted a $700 tender of the Northern Electric Company to install modern lighting fixtures in city schools.

Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin was congratulated by Chairman W. C. Moresby for her efforts to improve the lighting in city schools.

The annexes at Girls' Central School, which will become part of the junior high school in September, will be converted into a gymnasium.

France's Bank a Problem

THE RETURN OF CAMILLE CHAUTEMPS to the Premiership of France, succeeding Leon Blum, is seen as a triumph for the Popular Front and a defeat once more for the forces of reaction and Fascism in France.

Less than three and one-half years ago royalist and Fascist riots over the Stavisky scandal forced Chautemps from office. France in those days was closer than it has been in this generation to the overthrow of democracy. It was the danger disclosed by the attacks on the Chautemps government that led French Liberals, Socialists and Communists to unite in a Popular Front for the defence of democracy.

A commission of inquiry long ago cleared Chautemps of the calumnies hurled at him by French royalists and Fascists. His troubles as Premier in 1933 were the birth pangs of the Popular Front which continues to give France its most stable government since Poincaré.

The year that Blum spent in office was a New Deal for France. It established the 40-hour week, collective wage agreements, nationalization of the munitions industry, increased government control of the Bank of France. On this last reform the French Popular Front in its effort to take monetary control out of private hands, faltered. The bank, thanks to compromise, remains largely under private control. This failure proved Blum's undoing and is the first big task awaiting Chautemps.

That Camille Chautemps or Georges Bonnet, his Finance Minister, has the resolution or courage to take control of the bank from the "200 families" and thus make possible France's emergence from the economic difficulties created by her belated clinging to the gold standard and depletion of her huge stabilization fund in an effort to maintain a fictitious price for the franc, is doubtful. But it will stand as one of the chief issues facing the Popular Front government.

Tomorrow's Fuels

SPEAKING ON "FUELS OF TODAY AND Tomorrow" at a convention this week, Dr. Arno C. Fieldner, chief of the technology division of the U.S. Bureau of Mines, said that of coal this continent has plenty. Enough to last hundreds and perhaps a thousand or more years. But natural gas and oil obtained by present methods may be exhausted in less than a century.

Coal will continue to be the chief fuel for the generation of public utility and major industrial power. While improved burning of coal may lead to decreased consumption and the further development of water power may be expected to increase, Dr. Fieldner sees an increasing demand for total energy needed by the country so that coal's relative position should be favorable. Moreover, after 10 or 15 years oil resources will become more difficult to exploit, so that the trend will favor the increased consumption of coal.

"Tomorrow's power and central heating plants will burn any kind of coal completely and efficiently," said Dr. Fieldner. "There will be no smoke, no dust, and no sulphurous gases emitted to the atmosphere."

As no substitute for metallurgical coke has appeared, he said, the coke-oven industry should expand. Regulations prohibiting the waste of natural gas and the urge for additional markets will lead to the construction of more long-distance pipe lines. Gas will find industrial and domestic use and will displace oil as well as coal for fuel in some places. As natural gas approaches exhaustion gas from coal will take its place.

Dr. Fieldner sees a further use of automatic coal and gas-heating of homes and believes improved insulation will permit heating at about present costs, despite inevitable advances in the price of the fuel.

While oil-fuel Diesel engines on railroads may be expected to increase, Dr. Fieldner foresees coal retaining its predominance as the fuel for freight traffic throughout the age of oil and natural gas. Three-fourths of the world's shipping is now powered by oil fuel. Oil, in fact, has energized marine transport. He expects further widening of oil as a fuel in ships and predicts that when natural petroleum sources dwindle, oil from shale or from coal may come into use.

On the crucial question of gasoline supplies for automobiles Dr. Fieldner regards present pessimistic fears of a shortage by 1945 as unjustified. Such warnings, he points out, have been issued regularly since the automobile came into use. Scientific research, both in cracking heavy oils to yield more gasoline and the reverse process of polymerization where gasoline is created out of lighter gaseous vapors, should hold the production to levels of demand. Improved scientific prospecting for new reserves of petroleum and the drilling of deeper wells to tap now-unreached sources should be a further aid for the next two decades. Eventually, of course, gasoline supplies must dwindle. But improvements in engine construction to take lower-quality fuels and the expected improvements in Diesel engine operation should help materially.

Will Not Say "Positively"

SCARCELY A WEEK PASSES WITHOUT some high official of the United States government or of the British government stating that no change in the price of gold is contemplated. Nevertheless, as the magazine of Wall Street points out, the London market remains nervous and uncertain regarding the longer term outlook for gold, and it craves still more definite assurance. It would like the British and American monetary authorities to say flatly for the record: "We positively will not change the price of gold now or at any future time, under any conditions." It is not to be expected that either Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Chamberlain will go that far.

The British are trying to induce the central banks of British dominions and crown colonies to exchange sterling balances for some $500,000,000 of gold that the Bank of England would like to get rid of. This idea is favored by J. M. Keynes, noted British economist, and by Professor O. M. W. Sprague, one-time adviser to the Bank of England. It would be a partial redistribution of monetary gold stocks, and a partial substitution of gold reserves for sterling reserves in the credit structures of some dominions, notably Australia. It would, of course, ease Britain's load in the continuing Anglo-American venture of absorbing all offered gold at the $35 price. But this step, even if consummated, will not solve the United States' problem of finding money with which to buy gold that continues heavily to flow in.

If the two big buyers can hold out long enough, there may be a natural solution. There is some evidence that the rate of gain in gold production is slackening, due to higher mining costs. World gold output in April—latest month for which figures are available—was the smallest since last November, with the exception of short February, and in the United States was the smallest for any month during the last year. Higher commodity prices and larger labor costs would hasten the adjustment, but present a new problem.

Especially Worthy

PROBABLY NO WAR VETERANS' group has done more in the way of helping its members than the Tubercular Veterans' Association. Although their war wounds may not always show, they are none the less major casualties. To most of us theirs is a more serious physical impairment than the loss of a limb.

The war pensions of the tubercular veterans are inadequate for anything but the barest existence. But in spite of that and the fact that these men can do little, if any, productive work, it is the proud boast of the T.V.A. under President F. J. Crowhurst that it has never allowed any of its men to go on relief. The association also maintains clubrooms at 812 Blanshard Street as a welfare headquarters for its members. For the funds to continue its worthy works, the association must rely on the public. It has no other source of income than donations and subscriptions from those who recognize its worth. Tomorrow, through a tag day collection, the public as a whole will have an opportunity to show its appreciation of the work of the T.V.A. for the boys who did their bit for their country 20 years or so ago and have been paying the price ever since.

A Place to Relax

THERE MUST BE ADVANTAGES TO life in a backward and isolated community. We might miss some of the conveniences of this modern world, but we would also miss a lot of grief.

Consider, for instance, the Guatemalan village of Agua Escondida, recently visited by Dr. Robert Redfield, dean of the division of social sciences of the University of Chicago. Dr. Redfield says that the villagers of Agua Escondida know nothing of the world's news; they have never even heard of the Dionne quintuplets, the Coronation, or the romance and marriage of Wallis Warfield and the Duke of Windsor.

It must follow, logically, that they know nothing of strikes, unbalanced budgets, relief troubles, mounting taxes, or the civil war in Spain. How peaceful and uncomplicated life in Agua Escondida must be!

Notes

"Everlasting punishment" is mentioned in the Bible only once. Still, that's enough.

Wasting time may be a vice or a virtue, depending on what we would do with it if we did not waste it.

The first song from a stage production to become a smash hit since "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" is "Little Old Lady," which has crossed the 250,000 mark in sales—a rarity nowadays.

Canadians spent $154,132,440 on liquor last year, according to a Toronto compilation. This works out to an average of $14 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. Or, on the assumption that little is consumed by those under 20, it would mean an average of $24 for everyone over 19. Ontario government reports show the quantity of spirits consumed in that province increased 41 per cent during the year, beer 34.4 per cent, wines 12.3 per cent. In British Columbia the Liquor Board and beer parlor sales for last year totaled $16,000,000, which for our 750,000 population averages over $21 for every person, including children—a rate considerably higher than that for all Canada. Most of the spirits were imported while all the beer and a large proportion of the wine were made in this country.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

BUDAPEST.

UNTAMED

ON THE GREEN HILL above Budapest stand a bronze figure, six times man's size, holding up a cross, silhouetted black against the fierce blue sky of the Danube valley. This is the good Saint Gerard who brought Christianity to the Magyars, and at his feet is the stone figure of a savage, looking up at the holy man in wonderment, puzzled and still untamed.

The whole story of the Magyars and of their strange city is here in this huge monument. The Magyars are still untamed by Christianity, by Islam, by perpetual invasion, by the hordes of race, that have swept up the Danube since history began and left their blood and their progeny here.

You can see it at once in Budapest—the wild gypsy-streak in these people from the plains of Hungary, the Turkish strain from Asia Minor, the remnants of the Mongol breed from the East. You can see it in the architecture of these twin cities split by the Danube, in the Oriental domes and bulbous Turkish spires, in the sharp, pointed towers rising everywhere like upraised lances.

You can see it in the people, too—faces with a Mongol tinge about them, dark faces with fierce eyes, Turkish faces and bearded Jewish faces, and the faces of children with a clear Mongolian look in them.

MIXED BREEDS

BUDAPEST belongs to the Magyars. It is the capital of their little struggling country of Hungary, which emerged, with many another strange creature, out of the Treaty of Versailles. But really it belongs to a confusion of races and breeds beyond reckoning. In the daylight, Budapest is a modern city of noble slate-colored buildings and green domes crowded thick on either bank of the brown Danube, and linked by six towering suspension bridges. At sunset, Budapest is an ancient city in Asia, with a thousand swelling and sharp-pointed spires black against the red sky. But at night Budapest really comes to life—a fairy city, utterly unreal, a kind of dream, a city where fairies might live.

The dark hills across the river are dancing with a swarm of lamps like moving fireflies. Streaks of fire zig-zag across the river where the little boats move up and down, and the entire shape of the bridges is outlined in lights. High above, cunningly floodlighted, the green dome of the royal palace, the spires of the cathedral, the ancient white walls of the fort and the giant statue of St. Gerard with a ring of white columns behind it, all seem to float in the darkness, without foundation or substance, like objects in a dream.

PROMENADE

NOW BUDAPEST has turned out after the hot day for its evening of relaxation. On the wide promenade by the river, people of every race and color parade up and down for the mere pleasure of seeing themselves and Budapest at night. In the half mile of the promenade every inch beside the pavement is crowded with open-air cafes. A score of orchestras are playing, with the high-pitched wail of gypsy music.

Budapest is what Vienna used to be; what Paris would ever be, what no Anglo-Saxon city of races on the hot plains of the Danube live as if there had been no war and no depression; as if the tortured continent of Europe about them didn't exist. It is a city out of the old musical comedies, out of the "Merry Widow" and "Blossom Time," and the "Chocolate Soldier." The chocolate soldiers parade up and down here, as they used to parade on the stage, in funny little peaked caps, white uniforms and glistening swords, with gorgeous ladies on their arms.

What they call international society has moved in on Budapest because the pengo is low and living cheap. Budapest is doing well on this tourist business. Its cafes and hotels are jammed. There is hardly room for a dive into its innumerable swagging swimming baths, hot and cold. The best-dressed men and the most beautiful women of Europe are here, and many from the Americas, North and South.

OTHER SIDE

THIS IS the glittering outside of Budapest. The tourists seldom get behind it, into the mean streets where the poor live. There, in their swarming Ghetto are the ragged Jews—old men with long black beards, women in rags, half-naked, screaming children. Out in the sun, stripped to the waist, are the young men digging ditches for three pence a day—80 cents, and bread costs 12 cents a loaf. Out beyond the city's rim, in shacks and hovels, are the thousands of unemployed who get no dole, only a little wood and some food during the winter, and live largely by petty theft. Out on the broad plains of the Danube, the wheat field of Europe, are the tolling bare-footed peasants, withered by the fierce southward sun.

The glitter of Budapest is mostly for the tourists. But as I sat on the promenade to-night, drinking bitter black coffee, served by a negro in a red fez and pantaloons, I saw a strange thing. In the cafes on one side of the street sat the tourists and a few rich Hungarians. On the other side stood a dense crowd of ragged people from the city—yellow fellows without coats, old bearded men; a peasant woman with a black handkerchief over her head, her bare feet thrust through the holes in her shoes. They had come to listen to the music.

For two hours they stood there, motionless on the pavement, listening, while a fat old Magyar made his violin wail and his orchestra followed him with music curiously sad and haunting, real gypsy music from the plains of Hungary. These poor people knew the music, understood it. They couldn't afford coffee or wine but they were satisfied. This music is in their blood. Under the glitter of their modern city the Magyars are still untamed.

When Sir Wilfrid Kissed Queen's Hand

From Toronto Telegram

Napoleon the Great, after Mar-engo or Austerlitz the idol of the French army and people, was but a pale figure compared to the lustrous Wilfrid Laurier in the eyes of the Quebec habitant. Those who are too young to remember the brisk days from 1896 to 1908, when Laurier was permitted to "finish his work," can have no idea of the spell cast by the handsome, eloquent, white-plumed lawyer from Arthursville. By his worshippers of his own race and faith he had been exalted into little short of a divinity.

When Laurier went to London for Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, in June, 1897, he was the centre of much attention, and his oratory elicited most favorable comment. The effect he produced was amusingly exaggerated in a poem by A. M. B. Gordon, author of "Melnick Und Gott," which gave the habitants' view of their hero's triumphal progress.

"SIR WILFRID WAS DE BOSS"

It was related that when the Queen "to mak' some jubilee, sen' for men from all de world," she had said if Laurier "will not come I not be glad no more." Whereupon Canada's Prime Minister had promised, "I will come and show you what is like, de French Canadian gentil homme."

Den Wilfrid sail across de see, An' Queen Victoria's met, An' w'en she's see him, ah' she is Jus' tickle half to deat!

An' w'en he's kneel, as etiquette Demand, for be correct She tak' a sword into her han' An' hit him on de neck.

An' w'en she do, she smile on him, An' dese de words she say: "Rise up my true Canadian knight, Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

Den Wilfrid kiss de royal han' An' back off on de door, An' bow, as only Frenchman can, An' smile, an' bow some more.

Nex' day, it ees a glorious sight, At half past twelf o'clock, For see Sir Wilfrid ride on state, An' in chapeau de coque.

Oui, certainement excep' de Queen Herself, dat glorious day, De Greates' man on Anglettere Is Wilfrid Laurier.

"OUR WILFRID CAPTURE FRANCE"

Then Sir Wilfrid proceeded across the channel "to visit La Patrie an' mak' fine speeches, two or three, in de city of Patee, where he was decorated with the Legion of Honor.

En bref, our Wilfrid capture France, He's capture Anglan' too; I tink he will annex dem bot' To Canada, don' you?

FIRE PROTECTION

W. R. Sloan at annual meeting of E.C. Underwriters' Association. I am impelled to sound a note of warning to the members in regard to the fire protection in the cities of Vancouver and Victoria.

Last year, because of good record, there was a special general reduction of rates in Victoria of 10 per cent. The city is protected now with only three fire halls—some few years ago there were eight. No doubt the City Council are having difficult financial times, but they have taken two halls out of service since March, and one cannot help feeling this is false economy. In the city of Vancouver there are some sixty men short of the needed personnel, most of the apparatus in use requires replacement, and the fireboat which has been maintained on Burrard Inlet has recently been discontinued. Our engineering department is dealing with the situation and we are hopeful that the protection in both cities will be augmented as a result of present negotiations.

ST. MICHAEL'S HOLD CLOSING

Dean Quainton Presents Prizes; Gymnastic Display Is Given

On Wednesday afternoon the boys of St. Michael's School held their annual closing ceremonies, by the kindness of C. L. Aylard, in the lovely gardens of his house on Foul Bay Road. Fortunately the weather was kind and the few showers came when everyone was in shelter having tea.

The afternoon started with some infantry drill and marching, including the recognized manual exercises, under the guidance of C. E. Ley. Physical drill and games that entailed speed of thought and action were then performed with E. J. Symons giving the orders. Following the regulation drill, K. W. Symons took charge with a very smart gym squad. First of all small individual parties did various tumbling exercises, then the entire party did several spectacular exercises over the box horse, concluding with a plain vault done over the high horse, placed long ways on, and with an extra boy placed on the top. Immediately after the gymnastics the school as a whole formed two pyramids that showed strength, skill and balance.

In order that the Scout troop might have time to change into their uniforms, K. C. Symons, the headmaster, read the report of the secretary of the Old Boys' Association, outlining the activities engaged in by its members. As soon as this was finished the Scout troop gave a demonstration of bridge-building, the finished article being tried out by many small visitors and Col. H. C. Greer.

The final item in the afternoon's programme, prior to the actual presentation of prizes, was a demonstration of "Wolf" Cub activities. These included "Skinning the Snake," blindfold boxing, "Jumping the Bag" and standing on one's head.

Before proceeding with the prize-giving, the head gave a short resume of the year's activities, stressing the remarkable success the school had had in all branches of athletics. He also thanked all the friends of the school who had stood by so staunchly during the year, and finished on a note of cheerful optimism for the future, stating that the school would stick to its principles regardless of other interests.

He then introduced Dean C. S. Quainton, who first presented the school prizes in 1919, and who, by presenting them on this occasion, made it his tenth ceremony of this kind.

Following the presentation of prizes, the Dean spoke a few words on the very real part the school played in the life of the community, finishing with the wish that "it might ever continue a place of true learning, good manners and sound religion."

The large gathering of friends, old boys and parents then gathered on the veranda of the house for tea, thus closing a very successful day and term.

TENNIS PLAN IS UNDER WAY

Terry Peers to Coach 150 Local Junior Tennis Players

Approximately 150 boy and girl tennis players were present at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club this morning to take part in the opening ceremonies of the new tennis project sponsored by the Vancouver Island Tennis League.

Terry Peers, whose coaching experience in England, Montreal and other tennis places ably fits him for the job, has been engaged by the Provincial Department of Recreation in collaboration with the V.I.T.L. to take charge of the youngsters.

Future plans of the league executive entail advanced coaching for juniors showing exceptional promise. Additional funds are required for this phase of the project but through a generous donation from Charles F. Todd, well-known tennis patron, a start has been made.

All activities of the tennis development scheme will take place on the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club courts, the executive of which has extended to the youngsters the use of them.

A schedule has already been drawn up, July 5 having been set as the date for the first league match when in the girls' division Norfolk House will meet St. Ann's, St. Margaret's will meet Armadale and Victoria High School will meet St. Margaret's.

F. W. Goodman Golf Winner

The anniversary shield was played for at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday, and was won by F. W. Goodman, who was up on par, three-quarters of the difference in handicap being allowed. A. G. Craig was second with 2 up and was followed by G. K. Verley and Dr. D. A. McInnes, who were 2 down.

An all-day sweepstake will be played on July 4. The conditions are medal play with full handicaps. On the following Sunday the second interclub match for Straith trophy will be played at Uplands, the A teams being at Uplands and the B teams at Colwood.

Anglers View Scenic Movies

An interesting showing of movie pictures of the west coast area of Vancouver Island was given Wednesday evening by Claude L. Harrison before a general meeting of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. About 200 members were in attendance.

Sixteen members who reeled in big springs received their buttons and reports were received from the various committees. Secretary Bev Gilson gave an accounting of the association's finances and noted that the membership was close to the 400 mark.

KEN REID IN BIKE VICTORY

Royal Oak Rider Captures Annual Stacey Cup Event Held at Sidney

SIDNEY—The fourth annual competition for the Stacey Trophy for cycling took place last evening amid throngs of interested and enthusiastic spectators. This trophy is one donated by W. Stacey, for the best entry in an 8.4 course open to allcomers and divided into A and B class as distinguished by age.

Preceding this major event were several minor ones, including a new class for girls for which a cup was donated by A. Harvey.

The first scheduled race was the mile open in which the following starters lined up: Johnny Newman, Henry Neilson, Neil Duval, Ken Reid, Jack Barton, Dave McCreedy, Charlie Warren, Eric Whitehead, Ken Langrish and Keith Rankin. Eric Whitehead of Royal Oak; Ken Reid of Royal Oak, and Henry Neilson of Victoria took first, second, and third places, respectively.

For this event there was a ribbon and prizes. There being no entries in the under 13 class—the one for those under 16 was then put on with only five starters, being Dick Alexander of Deep Cove, Gordon Parkins of Saanich; Lewis R. McCorkill, also Saanich; Roy Bell, Saanich, and Alan Duval of Royal Oak, resulting in Alan Duval securing first place; Roy Bell second, and Dick Alexander third.

Four entries in the girls' class secured the prizes in the following order—Joan Butler first, securing the Harvey Challenge Cup; Laurie McNeil second; Doreen Kennedy third, and Dorothy B. Adams fourth. They were all local entries.

FEATURE EVENT

The big event, being class A for the Stacey Challenge Trophy, found twelve entries as follows: John Newman, A. Neilson, Neil Duval, Ken Reid, Jack Barton, Dave McCreedy, Charlie Warren, Gordon Bell, Eric Whitehead, Ken Langrish, Garfield Warren, and Keith Rankin. For the first two laps of the 8.4-mile course Neil Duval held the lead, but the fatal lap found him entirely out-paced, bringing Ken Reid of Royal Oak in first; Eric Whitehead second and Johnny Newman third. This race was accomplished in 23 minutes flat being 20 seconds quicker than the winners of last year's effort, but 2 minutes and 30 seconds slower than the 1935 event which stands as the record. The donor of the Challenge Cup also generously contributed an individual cup for the winner. Prizes were donated for the other winners.

Class B in the Stacey challenge saw only five entries: Alan Duval, Gordon Perkins, Roy Bell, Lewis McCorkill and Dick Alexander. The time occupied by the winners of the entry was 25 minutes 44 seconds. Alan Duval and Roy Bell tied for first place while Dick Alexander came third. By flip of coin, chosen by competitors Alan Duval won the toss to take the Challenge Cup. Roy Bell took a ribbon and prize and Dick Alexander a prize.

BOXER TO GO TO NEW YORK

Jack Patterson Will Journey East in an Effort to Gain Experience

Seventeen-year-old Jack Patterson, 878 Esquimalt Road, the youth who polished off all comers in the 1936 B.C. amateur boxing championships to lift the welterweight crown, is leaving for New York on Monday for two months where he will endeavor to further his pugilistic experience.

Patterson, who has put on a few more pounds since he won the title, is now a light-heavyweight. However, he was unable to compete for that crown in the 1937 meet held recently due to school examinations.

In an interview today Patterson said Muzz Patrick had promised to secure a good trainer for him while in New York. He will do his training in Stillman's gym and hopes to secure a couple of fights during his visit. On his return he will enter the Golden Gloves tournament in Seattle. He does not intend to drop his amateur standing for a few years.

The fine-looking Esquimalt youngster has had 15 fights during his brief fistic career and boasts a victory for each. It was his twelfth battle when he won the welter championship.

Tommy Drysdale is his manager. He fought here under the banner of the Canadian Scottish. His weight is 175 pounds.

ANDREW and IMOGENE

By ROE FULKERSON

"I have made up my mind to one thing!" said Andrew positively. "I know!" sighed Imogene. "You are always making up your mind to something."

"Why not?"

"It's a sign that you are getting past a certain age."

"What certain age?"

"The certain age when every man begins to make up his mind, and every woman begins to make up her face."

"Haven't both of them always done so?"

"Not to the extent they do after they pass a certain age," said Imogene. "When a man begins to make up his mind definitely on this and that, it means that he has passed the point where his mind is open to those subjects. He closes it definitely, and from that time on his opinion cannot be changed."

"After he has made up his mind definitely, he becomes a creature of habits. Most of those habits are habits of mind. His is ready at the drop of a hat to defend his ideas and ideals, which, like the laws of Medes and the Persians, change not."

"It simply means that he has decided that he is pretty smart, and is unwilling to be convinced by anybody, especially his wife, that he could possibly be wrong on one of his set theories."

"A woman instead of making up her mind when she reaches that age, begins to get less and less certain of her charms. Her nervousness is just the opposite of his. Instead of making up her mind to excess, as he does, she begins to make up her face to excess, with the idea that just a little dab more of powder here on her neck, and a little more rouge on her cheeks, and a bit more perfume on the lobes of her ears, will give her a more youthful glow."

"In her anxiety to hide her advancing years, she loses her head as does he, only in a different way. She loses confidence in herself, while he gains confidence in himself. I am sorry to see you begin to make up your mind definitely on things. You are a few years older than I am, and should reach that certain age before I do. But when I begin to see you making up your mind definitely on things, then I know it will not be long before I will begin to make up my face to excess."

"I don't ever want to do that, Andrew. No matter how ungracefully you grow old, I want to grow old gracefully and so gradually that none of my friends will realize that I have done so at all."

"I suppose you wouldn't care to know what I have made up my mind about?"

"To be frank, I wouldn't, but I suppose I will have to know."

"I have made up my mind that I'm not going to have any more arguments with you about money," said Andrew. "As you so appropriately said, we are nearing a certain age. Neither of us is middle-aged, but we are all set so we can bring up Betty Jo in the pleasant manner to which we want her to be accustomed."

"I feel that from now on, we should enjoy what I earn, with little thought for the future. I feel that the time has come when you should have the pretty things you want, and that I, too, should gratify any desire I may have for little luxuries."

"Are you well otherwise?" asked Imogene anxiously.

"I'm not sick!" protested Andrew.

"Are you sure you are not feverish or something?"

"Are you ribbing me?"

"That isn't the question. The question is, are you ribbing me? You wouldn't joke on so serious a subject, would you, darling? You wouldn't promise never to quarrel with me about the money I spend on clothes, would you?"

"I mean within reason, of course," amended Andrew.

"I knew there was a catch in it some place!" sighed Imogene. "Reason has no boundaries when it is a question of women's clothes."

"That isn't the question. The question is, are you ribbing me? You wouldn't joke on so serious a subject, would you, darling? You wouldn't promise never to quarrel with me about the money I spend on clothes, would you?"

"I mean within reason, of course," amended Andrew.

CHEMAINUS

CHEMAINUS—Closing of St. Michael's and All Angel's Sunday School was observed Sunday morning by a children's flower service.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Launchberry was baptised last Sunday afternoon, receiving the names of Phyllis Edith. The sponsors were Mrs. Paul Erickson, Miss Grace Farden and Sidney Corness.

Golden plovers, that fly over 2,500 miles from Labrador and Newfoundland to the tropics every year, are very fat birds when they leave the north, but the great effort of their flight leaves them thin when they arrive in the south.

THE "WAREHOUSE"
 1119 GOVERNMENT ST. 1420 DOUGLAS ST.

Pope, Mrs. Robert Connell and Mrs. Cooper. Mrs. Popert's sister from New Zealand.

At an executive meeting the business of the half year was cleared up, especially in connection with the painting of the vicarage. A report was brought in by the committee in charge of the making of hospital supplies, and a large parcel was sent away.

Sympathy was expressed for two members who are now in hospital, Mrs. McElfish and Mrs. E. H. Fisher. Thanks was extended to the committee in charge of the silver tea and especially to Mrs. M. Pebernatt and Mrs. W. R. Dunn, whose singing was much enjoyed.

St. Mark's choir enjoyed a very pleasant outing early in the week as a finish to the season's work, spending an evening at the Crystal Garden for a swim with a visit afterwards to the ice cream parlor.

Helen stopped "DABBING"
 ...when she discovered the shine-proof face powder with base of precious almond

FACE powder "done Helen wrong" so often... she just couldn't help being a "dabber"! Then a friend told her... told of a lovely powder that has ended "dabbing" for millions.
 That powder is Princess Pat. What Helen learned, you, too, should know. If you want your complexion to stay as fresh on the dance floor as it looked in your mirror, there's one thing to remember—use a powder with clinging almond base.
 That means use Princess Pat—for to Princess Pat powder belongs the priceless almond secret. Of course Princess Pat powder is good for your skin... almond is a recognised skin emollient! Of course it covers smoothly... never looks "powdery"... for almond makes it the softest of powders. Of course it clings longer... remains gloriously boudoir-fresh. Almond takes care of that, too.
 Lift your beauty to triumphant new heights with this divine powder! Non-caking, non-clogging, moisture-proof. Lovely "tone blend" shades—enchantingly perfumed. At dealers everywhere. Accept no substitute.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel!"
 SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1937
 According to astrological beliefs aspects dominate today. The stars encourage journeys and preface success for those who enjoy vacations beginning on this date.
 While there may be widespread anxiety regarding future international relations, the month promises general good feeling and may bring about pleasure for many persons.
 April the stars seem to warn of accidents on the high seas and in the air. Warning is given that extra care is most important where machinery is involved.
 Women today are subject to the most favorable planetary influences which make for real happiness. Romance awaits the young.
 There is a good sign today for theatres. Summer stock should be successful in developing players and in trying out new dramas.
 Good news relating to creative work or many sorts is forecast for this month, when young authors will be fortunate. There is a sign of promise for foreign correspondents.
 Employers should benefit under this configuration, which seems to indicate better labor conditions for those who have mental vision.
 Persons whose birthdate is 11 have the augury of a year of change in which disappointments may lead to improved financial conditions.
 Children born on this day probably will be ambitious and far-seeing. Subjects of this sign usually are wise in promoting their best interests.
 King Haakon of Norway was born on this day, 1872. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include John Singleton Copley, portrait painter, 1737, and special U. S. and physicist, 1864. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate).

COL. SCLATER RETIREES HERE

C.P.R. Traffic Manager in Australasia Completes 17
Years' Service

"Naturally, I have regrets at leaving Australia, for I have made many lasting friendships there, but it is good to come back to British Columbia," said Col. J. Sclater, D.S.O., retired traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Australia and New Zealand, on his arrival here from Sydney yesterday aboard the liner Monowal.

He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. A. Harvey. "I have spent 17 years in Australia, and now I have retired I intend to settle down in Victoria," said Col. Sclater.

When seen by ship reporters the colonel sought further details of the recent British Columbia election and expressed regret that Victoria had not returned Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal candidate. "She would have been a splendid acquisition to the Legislature," said Sclater.

Col. Sclater returned home the picture of health. He is recognized as one of Canada's good-will ambassadors, for at all times it has been his endeavor to cement the friendly ties binding this country with Australia and New Zealand.

MUCH FETED

Just how highly he was thought of by the Australians was evidenced by the numerous farewell dinners held in his honor at Sydney and other points in the Commonwealth just prior to his departure for Canada.

"They are a wonderful, big-hearted people, who are vitally optimistic as to the future of their progressive country," he said.

The post of C.P.R. traffic manager in the Antipodes was created for Col. Sclater. Now he has reached the age of retirement the position has been divided with separate offices in Auckland and Sydney.

ANCIENT OAK ORDERED DOWN

Tree on Burdette Avenue
Declared Unsafe By City
Engineer

The large old oak tree which stands on the north side of Burdett Avenue, between Vancouver and Quadra Streets, near the Bishop's Close, is doomed. The city engineer and the parks superintendent visited the tree and found it to be hollow, with branches continually falling on the sidewalk. It was dying, the engineer said, and was a menace and the City Council at its meeting on Wednesday decided to have it removed.

Alderman John A. Worthington was the only member of the council to object to the removal of the tree.

The city engineer was authorized by the council to proceed with renewing pipe in the Sooke Harbor water system, at a cost of $2,500.

D. B. Ryles, who has been on three months' probation, was made a member of the permanent staff of Ross Bay Cemetery, effective July 1.

The claim of Mrs. M. W. Smith of 918 McCaskill Street, Victoria West, for $12 for a goat killed by two dogs was referred by the council to the finance committee and the city solicitor for investigation and report.

Rail Line To Be Abandoned

OTTAWA—The Great Northern Railway applied to the Board of Railway Commissioners today for leave to abandon a 24 mile section of track between Hedley and Princeton in British Columbia. The line is operated by the Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern Navigation Company, a Great Northern subsidiary.

Dickens Club At Shawnigan

Interesting correspondence concerning the duel between Lord Verisopht and Sir Mulberry Hawk in Dickens's "Nicholas Nickleby" was read yesterday by C. C. Pemberton at the annual field day of the Dickens Club, Victoria branch.

The field day, held at Shawnigan Lake, was attended by a large number of guests and friends.

The chief interest in the duel was as Victoria is concerned is that it took place near Petersham, Surrey, where Capt. George Vancouver is buried, and where last year an arbutus tree from Victoria was planted in commemoration of his explorations.

Several snapshots were forwarded to Victoria along with explicit information about the Petersham area by J. D. Billington, a member of the Dickens Fellowship, London.

Illustration by Barnard in Mr. Pemberton's copy of "Nicholas Nickleby" was imaginative, he said, but undoubtedly Dickens was familiar with the scene as he lived in Petersham while writing the book.

The arbutus tree sent by Victoria was flourishing well, looking healthy and growing considerably, according to a letter from

Cecil Piper, borough librarian and secretary of the Richmond, Surrey, library. Mr. Pemberton was cordially thanked for his contribution to the programme.

TOMMY FARR, who so suddenly finds himself one of the key men in a well-scrambled heavyweight boxing situation, could not make a living in the ring until only a few weeks ago. Farr has become highly important because Max Schmeling has announced he is not fussy about fighting in United States rings and wants nothing more to do with either Mike Jacobs or Madison Square Garden. Schmeling has gone further by agreeing to fight Farr in London.

The International Boxing Union would be willing to recognize the winner of a Schmeling-Farr fight as world champion, and not without some foundation, inasmuch as James J. Braddock deliberately ran out on Schmeling and the German flattened Joe Louis.

Farr weighs 14 stone 6, which is 202 pounds, and stands six feet. He is 23 years old. Born at Penycrag, in the Rhondda Valley mining region of South Wales, Farr developed himself cutting coal with a pick at the pit face underground. He became a boot or bell-boy in a Cardiff hotel, and from that graduated into a waiter.

Farr started fighting five years ago, but until very recently was considered a good second-rater with close decisions over the aged Tommy Loughran and Bob Olin. Because he could get his fighter employment in no other way, Ted Broadbent promoted the Loughran and Olin bouts himself.

Once a corking featherweight known as Young Snowball, Broadbent is the only Britisher who ever defeated Georges Carpentier. He has visited North America on several occasions in his capacity as a fight manager. Farr had never been paid more than $100 for a fight when he lifted the British championship from Ben Ford, the South African, in March, when the betting odds were 10 to 1 against him. He collected $375 for that one.

Farr was given his chance to scale the heights when Gen. A. C. Critchley, managing director of the wealthy Greyhound Racing Association of England, guaranteed Max Baer $25,000, free of income tax, for one fight in the Old Country. Farr was given the chance to tackle Baer and paid $10,000. Catching Baer after a long period of illness, Farr opened a nasty cut over the Californian's eye and took an easy 12-round decision.

He was then guaranteed $16,500 for a contest with Walter Neusel and became a mild sensation by knocking out the German in the third round. Until he caught up with Neusel, Farr was not reputed to be much of a hitter. He was known as a busy workman and a tough fellow to fight. Now the latest British heavyweight finds himself one of the leading contenders for the crown held by Louis.

Open Defence Of Title Well; Drop Feature Contest

Beaten By Vancouver in Junior Fours as Regatta Opens at Elk Lake

Three-day Meet

Although they lost the feature event, the junior fours, to the Vancouver Rowing Club, oarsmen from the James Bay Athletic Association carried off the lion's share of the honors as the annual regatta of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen, got under way at Elk Lake yesterday afternoon. The senior races were being held today with events for the eight scheduled tomorrow.

Well over 1,000 spectators saw Coach Dan Moses' boys capture four out of the five junior races and secure nine points to six for Vancouver. The Bays are defending the N.P.A.A.O. championship they won last year on the mainland.

Conditions were just not perfect for the races yesterday, the lake being choppy as a result of the sharp wind, but the crews appeared to have no trouble driving their slim craft through the ruffled waters.

VISITING FOUR WINS

Pulling into the lead at the start the Vancouver Rowing Club's junior four marked up a smart triumph. Drawing the outside lane with the Brentwood College shell in the centre and the J.B.A.A. on the inside the mainlanders dipped their blades deep as the starter's gun sounded and were away in front.

At the first quarter Vancouver held a length lead and were rowing beautifully together at thirty-six. Victoria and Brentwood were pulling neck and neck with the first named crew stepping their stroke up to forty in an effort to cut down the lead of the V.R.C. Brentwood was pulling at thirty-two. At the half Vancouver still held a margin of a length and a half with Victoria in second place and Brentwood dropping back to third. The Bays made a gallant effort to catch the Vancouver boat at the three-quarter mark, but the mainlanders pulled away to cross the finishing line with a lead of five lengths. Victoria was second and Brentwood third. The time of the winning crew was 7:23. The Vancouver four included: Bruce Bain, A. McGowan, D. Lucas and J. Slater.

Opening race on the programme saw Max Winkler, J.B.A.A. defeat George Masse, Vancouver Rowing Club, in the junior singles. Both got away well from the starting line and kept fairly even for the first quarter. Approaching the half-way mark Winkler drove his scull in front, stroking at thirty while Masse was counted at thirty-two. At the three-quarter post Winkler was two lengths to the good and added another length by the time he got the finishing gun. Winkler's time was 9:35.35.

Closest race of the afternoon was seen in the junior doubles, won by Bill Seattle and Jim Temple of the J.B.A.A. from Tommy Croston and Jim Ellison, Vancouver. After a false start, owing to one of Seattle's oars slipping its lock, the local pair swept into the lead and were never headed, although they had to pull their hearts out to hold off the desperate finish of the mainlanders. The Victorians held a length lead at the half and crossed the line with the same margin. They were clocked in 8:01.35.

Using his experience to good advantage the veteran Arnold Mann, J.B.A.A., took the 140-pound singles from Tommy Robinson, Vancouver. It was Robinson's first appearance in a major regatta. Breaking even Robinson was able to hold Mann over the first quarter, but after that the Victoria sculler had matters well in hand. Stroking a smooth thirty-four at the half

Boxla Game On Tonight

Victorians will get their first taste of local sports under floodlights this evening at the Athletic Park when Richmond-Homes and New Westminster Adanacs, two fine mainland box lacrosse clubs, clash in an exhibition fixture. The tilt is billed to start at 8.30, with Clarence Huff, Vancouver, as referee.

The box has been moved down in front of the grandstand and extra seats have been added to accommodate the expected large gathering of fans. Both teams will have their strongest line-ups on hand for the battle and there should be plenty of excitement. Boxla is one of the fastest games played today and is attracting the fans by the thousands in Vancouver and New Westminster.

NORTH SHORE IS DEFEATED

Beaten 3 to 1 By Vancouver Electricians in Dominion Cup Football

VANCOUVER—Vancouver Electricians cut loose with a second-half barrage that netted three goals yesterday and defeated North Shore United 3 to 1 to gain the British Columbia final of the Dominion Cup soccer championship series.

The result eliminated the Uniteds from the championship play and put Electricians in line to meet the winner of the other semi-final game between Victoria City and Johnstons, to be played here tomorrow.

North Shore had the advantage on the general run of play in the first half but missed several opportunities to score and the half ended without a score for either side.

Three minutes after the cross-over Greer booted in a pass from McKay for Electricians' first score but the United equalized 20 minutes later on a long, low shot by Cummings.

BYE LO WINS RACE FEATURE

Captures Handicap at Lansdowne as B.C. Racing Season Starts

VANCOUVER—Major Austin C. Taylor's Bye Lo took an early lead and staved off challengers at the finish yesterday to win the Coronation Handicap, feature event of the opening day of the 1937 racing season at Lansdowne track.

Bye Lo opened fast and ran away from the field at the start, but was challenged by Simo and Wise Ace, who were gaining at the finish. The winner paid $3.30, $2.90 and $2.70 in the pari-mutuel machines.

St. Louis Cards Are Skidding Fast

Beaten 6 to 3 By Chicago to Go Three-and-half Games Behind Leaders

The St. Louis Cardinals are still rough, tough and nasty, but they're slipping fast and take it from experts, they'll need lots more than an ability to dish it out in order to string along in the current National League dog fight.

In their last two series, against the New York Giants and Cubs, they haven't even been lukewarm. As a result, today they're creaking along in a third place tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates, while the Cubs and the Giants are racing three and a half and three games, respectively, in front of them.

Tangling with these two troupes in their last six starts, the Cards have dropped five in a row—two to the Giants and three straight to the Cubs. The "Big Three" pitching troop of Dean, Bob Weiland and Lon Warneke, folded up like a collapsible canoe.

Yesterday, Frankie Frisch sent Jim Winford to the wars and the Cubs pinned his ears back 6 to 3, after Frisch and shortstop Lippy Leo Durocher were banned for rowing with the umpire. Ripper

Collins' home run with two aboard was the payoff wallop.

BIG HOME RUN

The Cubs had to win to stay out in front, for the Giants knocked over the Phillies 8 to 6 on Wally Berger's pinch-homer in the clutch, with two on base and two away in the ninth inning.

Although they won a 12 to 7 burlesque from the Philadelphia Athletics, the New York Yankees were a sorry set. Twinkietoes George Selkirk, their slugging outfielder, fell in making a circus catch and suffered an injury to his right shoulder that will keep him on the shelf several days.

Brooklyn's Dodgers finally ended their scoreless streak at 36 consecutive innings, but the Boston Bees turned in a 4 to 1 victory behind Johnny Lanning's three-hit flinging, for their sixth straight win.

The Chicago White Sox also climbed aboard Detroit pitching for a 15 to 8 victory. The Washington Senators made it two in a row over the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 2.

COAST LEAGUE

If the Oakland Aorns and the San Francisco Mission Reds could make their base hits equal runs they probably would be fighting it out for the top spot in the Coast League baseball race instead of the cellar. Repeatedly this season the circuit's outstanding cellar contenders have outhit their opponents only to lose out.

Miraculously the Aorns have won two straight from the hard-hitting Seattle Indians at Seattle. Last night they managed to get four runs out of 11 hits, which included homers by Earl Bolyard, who made his debut with the Oaks yesterday, and Ed Leishman. The score was 4 to 3. The Missions lost their third straight to their home-town rivals, the second-place San Francisco Seals yesterday, 6 to 3, although they outhit the Seals 11 hits to 10. Sacramento defeated the Portland Beavers 5 to 2.

NEW DELAY IN EVICTION CASE

Adjournment Follows Dispute Over Legality of New Evidence

Decision in the case brought by the city against Sheriff H. W. Goggin and his deputy, Robert Sangster, on a charge of obstructing traffic in connection with an eviction on Superior Street was adjourned until Wednesday by Magistrate Henry Hall in City Police Court this morning.

The delay was granted at the request of C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, to permit him to find authorities for the legality of the introduction of supplementary evidence this morning.

The evidence, as to the position of the evicted goods on the street and the duration of their stay there, was given by the evicted tenant and Inspector J. T. Bolton of the City Police after W. B. Colvin of the Attorney-General's department, appearing for the defence, had registered an objection.

Mr. Colvin maintained that the introduction of new evidence at this stage constituted reopening the case. He quoted two authorities which he said upheld this view.

Mr. Harrison replied that in the cases quoted as authority new evidence had been found by the prosecution. In the present case the court had asked for clarification by additional evidence of points already raised. He claimed he could produce authority that it was within the rights of the magistrate to ask for such clarification, and requested an adjournment.

The evicted man in his testimony said he had told the deputy sheriff he was unable to remove the goods, and that they would have to stay in the roadway. Inspector Boulton testified the goods were still piled on the roadway to a distance of six feet from the curb and for a length of over 21 feet, and that the city police had been placing red lanterns on them since June 3.

The city fire department answered a call to a small grass fire on Roberts Street shortly after noon today.

FULL CABINET WILL ASSEMBLE

Swearing in Ceremony Monday For New Attorney-General

With the addition of the new Attorney-General, G. S. Wismer, K.C., the full British Columbia cabinet will assemble Tuesday for the first time in several weeks and will discuss estimates and government policies for the fall session, Premier Pattullo indicated this morning.

Mr. Wismer will be sworn in as a member of the executive council at a Government House ceremony Monday afternoon. The benchers will attend and Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber, who is just back from England, will administer the oath to the Attorney-General.

The Premier said he had asked all cabinet ministers to be in the city Tuesday for the usual meeting of the council so the government can get straightened away in its plans for the session.

Pending the return of Prime Minister Mackenzie King from Europe, the province is awaiting advice on when the Royal Commission on provincial taxation will commence its work. The Premier said he did not yet know whether it would be necessary to go to Ottawa before the session, which is expected to start late in October.

M.P.P.'s-elect Spoil Ballots

Members of Parliament should know all about voting and how to mark their ballots.

But members of Parliament-elect, evidently, sometimes become a little mixed when voting in a council chamber.

On Wednesday members of the City Council met to elect civic representatives to the board of directors of the Jubilee Hospital. A ballot was found necessary and papers were passed to each alderman.

When Mayor McGavin counted the votes he found one paper spoiled. Alderman W. T. Straith admitted it was his. He had marked a dash instead of a cross. Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter expressed the opinion the ballot should not be declared spoiled.

Later another ballot was found with the dash instead of the cross. Alderman Hunter admitted it was his.

Mayor McGavin said ballots should always be marked with a cross, and he declared those of Aldermen Hunter and Straith spoiled.

Vancouver Boys' Orchestra Here

Youthful Musicians Will Play on Showboat Saturday Evening

The Vancouver Metropolitan Concert Orchestra with its 60 pieces under the direction of Dr. Almond E. Harper will play at the Showboat on Saturday evening.

The orchestra, a junior aggregation, consisting of boys of 16 and 17, has already won eight championships and hopes to go to Toronto next year to compete in the junior orchestra class.

Garfield White is master of ceremonies and with the orchestra is Beverly Kendall, boy chief of the Blackfeet Indians, who performs on his pony Spotlight.

Other engagements for the orchestra are as follows: Sunday service on Mount Tolmie at 11 in the morning; Beacon Hill at 3 Sunday afternoon, and a Sunday evening programme in the Empire Theatre following Dr. Clem Davies' service.

The orchestra has been brought over here in connection with the Jubilee celebration of the city. The members of the band are staying at Dr. Clem Davies' ranch, St. Hillers, on Burnside Road.

Fire Destroys Landmark Roof

Building on Mitchell Estate Damaged By One of Four Holiday Blazes

The city fire department had a busy afternoon on Dominion Day, answering four calls, all but one of which were of a minor nature.

The roof of the unoccupied residence on the Mitchell estate at the corner of Gorge Road and Washington Avenue was completely destroyed by a blaze of unknown origin which kept the department busy for more than two hours, and will probably necessitate the demolition of the building, which has been in the hands of the Mitchell family for more than 50 years.

The fire was reported to the department at 4.42 o'clock, and had at that time already taken a strong hold on the roof.

According to Chief Alex Munroe the fire started on the second floor at the foot of a stairway leading to the attic. He believed it had been caused either by boys smoking in the empty house, or by some person who had been sleeping there without authorization.

The department also answered a call to another minor roof fire at 1329 Johnson Street shortly before 1 o'clock. The other calls were a grass fire at Railway and School Streets and smoke alarm in the Oak Bay pump house on Lansdowne Road.

Martin R. Woodburn, 1639 Haultain Street, for 19 years a member of the Victoria City fire department, has been appointed fire chief at Fernie and will take up his duties immediately. His resignation was accepted by the City Council at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. Fire wardens will meet next week to fill Mr. Woodburn's position.

NO HOLIDAY
FOR MILITIA

Infantry at Sidney Discard
Tunics and Go Route
Marching

Dominion Day was no holiday for more than 1,000 members of the Non-permanent Active Militia of Canada from Vancouver Island and the lower mainland, at present under canvas on the outskirts of Sidney.

The majority of them spent the day in route marches. The air for miles around the Saanish community was loud with the noise of pipe, bugle and brass bands, and cars proceeding to the Stevenson ferry had continually to slow down to allow the marching troops to pass.

United States tourists parked their machines and got out to watch the troops, and especially at the three Highland units in the camp, the First Battalion of the Canadian Scottish from Victoria, the Second (Machine Gun) Battalion from up-island and the Seaford Highlanders of Canada
from Vancouver.

The camp itself, which overflows from the Sidney sports ground into two fields and on orchard on either side, was fairly quiet during the afternoon. Outside one tent officers were receiving instruction in tactics from a staff officer. On the parade ground machine gunners from the Westminster Regiment, which became a machine gun
unit under the recent army reorganization, were practicing indirect fire work, and signallers and stretcher bearers were training in knots in various parts of the camp.

DRESS FOR COOLNESS
Under canvas the militia gets down to the more serious business of army training, and there is less thought for smart uniforms. Tunics are universally discarded, and the occasional blue shirt adds color to the marching bodies of troops.

The Sidney camp started on Wednesday night, and will continue until Monday. At that time the two machine gun battalions, the Westminster and the Second Scottish, will move to Heal's range for firing practice.

DON BUDGE WINS WIM-BLEDON TITLE

with a series of dazzling drives and volleys.

Budge took the eighth game, 5-6, and the set, 6-2, and the match only after the German had game point three times against the redhead's service.

On the final point Budge charged to the net and pounded one-to-Von Cramm's deep backhand. Von Cramm barely touched the ball and outed weakly.

Von Cramm and Budge broke even the previous times they met in 1935 when the German beat the red-headed American in the semi-finals here only to have matters reversed in the Davis
Cup inter-zone finals.

The American ace already is in the finals of the mixed doubles with Alice Marble. The United States Women's titleholder.

Yvon Petra and Simone Mathieu of France reached the finals of mixed doubles by defeating Daniel Prenn of Germany and Bevelyn Dearman of England, 6-2, 6-4. The winners will meet Budge and Miss Marble tomorrow.

The British Davis Cup team of C.R.D. Tuckey and George Patrick Hughes reached the finals by a surprisingly easy 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 victory over the Czechoslovakians, Ladislav Reich and Roderich Menzel.

Mrs. P. M. King and Joan Pittman of England entered the finals of the women's doubles with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Mrs.
Dorothy Andrus of New York and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France.

In the semi-finals of the women's singles played yesterday Dorothy Round, England, defeated Rene Mathieu, France,
6-4, 6-0 and Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, Poland, won over Alice Marble; United States champion, 8-6, 6-2. They meet in the final tomorrow.

J.B.A.A. OARSMEN CAP-TURE FOUR EVENTS

Mann was four lengths in front and he finished with the same margin. His time 3:36.45.

Mann returned to the course and partnered Bob Whitten to win the 140-pound doubles and complete the Bays' victories.
Rowing against Tommy Robinson and S. Arbo, Vancouver, and Fred Crouch and Bill Ross,
another J.B.A.A. entry, Mann and Whitten had the race at their command the full length of the course to win by three lengths.
Robinson and Arbo sprinted over the last quarter to take second place by three lengths. The winner's time was 8 minutes flat.

SPEEDBOAT RACES
During the afternoon the spectators were given additional thrills by speedboat races staged under the auspices of the outboard association. In the time trials held in the morning over a three-quarter mile course Rolfe Hibbard was the winner in the time of 35 seconds. Norman Grice was second in 47 seconds;
Louis Schmelz third in 49 and Walter Pearce fourth in 1:37.

The initial race for inboards was won by Harry Payne in 51 seconds with Percy Dutton second in 1:03. The event for 25 horsepower outboards went to Louis Schmelz and Norman Grice second. In the 220 cubic inch inboards test Harry Payne was the victor with Bill Stromkins second and Percy Dutton third.

In the open event for outboards
Hibbard carried off the honors with Schmelz taking second place and Grice third.

MAN QUESTIONED,
ENDS HIS LIFE

LOS ANGELES—Ray Harmon,
57, who, Detective Lieutenants A.
E. Winters and L. H. Pitts said, was questioned Wednesday night in connection with the slayings of three small Inglewood girls, Melba and Madeline Everett and Jeanette Stephens, was found hanging Thursday night in the garage of his home. The officers said the death was a suicide.

Lieut. Winters said Harmon had been given the alternative of being arrested or resigning his job as an employee of the City Park department as a result of their investigations of his conduct. The officer did not amplify the statement.

Both Winters and Pitts said Harmon had been absolved of any connection with the Inglewood case when he took his life.
They said no further investigation was contemplated.

Adventure In
"Another Dawn"

Errol Flynn and Kay Francis in Desert Setting at Capitol

A British garrison is trapped in Iraq with only one chance for them to be saved.

They have an old airplane. It can fly—with bombs—to a dam that needs to be destroyed. But it can't carry enough fuel to fly back. The man that flies it and destroys the dam and saves the garrison has no chance in the world of ever returning. And there are just two men who know how to pilot a plane.

That's the climactic situation in "Another Dawn," the romantic adventure story filmed by Warner Bros. which has its local premiere today at the Capitol Theatre.

One of the men is that handsome Irish star, Errol Flynn.
He is a junior officer and pal of the Colonel of the outfit. Also, he is in love with the Colonel's wife, who is the lovely Kay Francis. And the colonel is that strikingly good-looking Englishman who used to be the matinee idol of London—Ian Hunter. He loves both his wife and his junior—but he has no idea that they love each other.

Who flies the plane and destroys the dam and saves the garrison?

The working out of the problem is what makes "Another Dawn" a gripping photoplay.
William Dieterle, directed.

PLAZA THEATRE
E. Phillips Oppenheim, the novelist, made his first visit to a film studio when "Romance and Riches," the screen adaptation of his perennial best seller, "The Amazing Quest of Mr. Ernest
Bliss," was being produced.

Mary Brian plays the feminine lead opposite Grant in "Romance and Riches," which is now at the Plaza.

The Braddock-Louis fight pictures also are being shown.

COLUMBIA THEATRE
The longest fight in Jack Demsey's career was with Frank Hagney, who is seen in a thrilling prize fight sequence in
"Ghost Town Gold," Republic's stirring western drama, now at the Columbia Theatre. Hagney, a professional athlete, fought Demsey 10½ hours at a stretch for the filming of a motion picture fight a few years ago. Bob Livingston, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune are featured as the "Three Mesquiteers" in "Ghost Town Gold."

Moody vs. B. A. Yates, F. G.
Hodgson vs. A. Tippet, F. Stratholt vs. C. E. Draper, N. R. Stewart vs. S. J. Jackson and E. A. Robinson vs. W. E. Fillery.

Wendy Barrie
IN STAR ROLE

Actress Known Here in
"Wings Over Honolulu" at Dominion

Take the flashing color of flying forces, mix it with the romance of the South Seas, wrap it all in a swiftly paced, dramatic story about a beautiful navy wife who is lashed by the tongues of gossip—and you have "Wings Over Honolulu," the film which opened today at the Dominion Theatre.

With Wendy Barrie, Ray Milland and Kent Taylor heading a fine cast, this New Universal picture presents a phase of navy life which has been left untouched by previous screenplays concerned with sea forces.

HOTEL STRIKE IN VANCOUVER

Georgia Picketed as Negotiations Refused With Waiters

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pickets lined the streets outside downtown Hotel Georgia today after 26 bus boys and waiters had walked out last night when the hotel management refused to negotiate with the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union, seeking higher wages for waitresses, waiters and bus boys.

The strike showed signs of spreading to other unions as members of the Musicians' union, scheduled to play at a banquet last night, refused to pass the pickets. Members of the Stationary Engineers' union and the beer parlor waiters local of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union followed their example.

More than 70 workers are affected, but E. W. Hudson, hotel manager, said the hotel would "carry on as usual."

W. Gatenman, secretary of the union, said the union sought a $2.50 weekly wage increase for waitresses, bringing their wage to $12 a week; overtime pay for waiters at banquets, and a wage increase for bus boys from the present 22 cents to 35 cents an hour.

Gatenman said the strike followed four unsuccessful attempts to negotiate with the management for "union recognition and union wages and conditions."

Governor Starts Tour Tomorrow

While He Goes to Akavik in Arctic, Lady Tweedsmuir to Visit Victoria

QUEBEC (CP)—A vice-regal party will leave here tomorrow on a 10,000-mile tour that will make Lord Tweedsmuir the first Governor-General in Canada's history to cross the Arctic Circle.

The tour, believed the longest continuous journey ever made by a Governor-General in Canada, will take His Excellency and three members of the government House staff down the Mackenzie River to Akavik on that great river's delta, across a narrow strip of water by air to Herschel Island in the Beaufort Sea, and back to civilization by air. From Edmonton the party will cross British Columbia to the coast at Bella Coola and return east from Prince Rupert.

The journey will mark the first time a Governor-General has flown on a long trip with sanction of the government.

From Quebec to Waterways, Alta., there will be eight members of the party, Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir; A. S. Redfern, secretary to the Governor-General, and Mrs. Redfern; Mrs. George Paper, lady-in-waiting to her excellency; Lieut. S. G. Rivers-Smith, and Capt. G. P. Campbell-Preston, aide de camp, and Hon. Alastair Buchan, Their Excellencies' son.

The party will arrive at Waterways July 21. Lord Tweedsmuir, Mr. and Mrs. Redfern and Lieut. Rivers-Smith will be taken down the Mackenzie by steamboat.

Lady Tweedsmuir, Mrs. Paper, Captain Campbell-Preston and Hon. Alastair Buchan will go to Victoria and spend some time at Government House.

Lord Tweedsmuir's boat will be an old-fashioned stern-wheeler, his fellow passengers traders, miners, prospectors, missionaries, nurses and Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Five Deaths In Fireworks Blast

Fifteen Suffer Injuries at Nampa, Idaho; One in Critical State

NAMPA, Idaho—A pre-holiday fireworks explosion that turned a combination drugstore and beauty parlor into an inferno of pyrotechnics claimed two more lives today, bringing the toll to five.

More than fifteen were injured—one of whom may die. Mrs. Ernest Miller, 28, and Mrs. George L. Delle, 38, died this morning. Mrs. T. C. Daniels, 29, her dress aflame, succumbed yesterday afternoon and a few hours later Katherine Miller, 3, daughter of Mrs. Miller, and Ardye Pavik, 12, died of burns.

Fire Chief L. T. Lessinger said children playing with fireworks in the shop touched off the spark that caused the tragedy.

Of the injured, Miss Maria George was in the most serious condition Thursday and hospital attendants said she was "sinking fast."

Better Outlook On Wall Street Today With Trend Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Short covering in some sections and a better news environment aided the stock market to gains of fractions to a point or more today.

More auspicious news, brokers said, included further abatement of strike worries, monetary stability in the French currency, difficulty and a lift of 50 cents a ton in steel scrap at Pittsburgh.

Short covering reported in some brokerage circles was termed a normal occurrence preceding long market holidays.

Industrialists pushed out in front with demand centering on oils, steels, coppers, ore shares and aircraft. Rails were inactive but generally higher.

Transactions were approximately 800,000 shares.

Wheat was 2 1/2 cents a bushel lower to 1 1/2 of a cent higher. Corn was down 1/4 to 1 1/2. Cotton sagged. Bonds improved. The pound sterling gained, as did the French franc.

(By H. A. Number Ltd.)

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty industrials, 172.22, up 2.09.

Twenty rails, 52.06, up 0.58.

Twenty utilities, 27.03, up 0.33.

Forty bonds, 100.84, up 0.33.

SCIENTIST TO STUDY CANADA

Australian Research Specialist Says Cactus Growth Now Controlled

How Australia has controlled the prickly pear by the importation of a Uruguayan insect that is known as cacto-blastis, which feeds on and destroys the cactus growth, was related by Gerald Lightfoot, of the Australian council for Scientific and Industrial Research, who reached Victoria by R.M.S. Monowai yesterday from Melbourne.

Previously they had endeavored to stem its ravages by the cochineal insect, from which is produced the brilliant red dye, but it was not until Uruguay supplied the cacto-blastis that real progress was made.

"So great has been our success that we now have the prickly pear under control over an area of 55,000,000 acres in Queensland and New South Wales," said Mr. Lightfoot. "We consider it a most remarkable achievement, which has been accomplished within the last decade."

The scientific and industrial research organization represented by Mr. Lightfoot is the Australian counterpart of the National Research Council of Canada.

"I am making this tour to find out what other countries are doing in this branch of research," said Mr. Lightfoot in explaining that he intended to go to the United States, Great Britain and Germany, following his Canadian visit.

R.M.S. Monowai Found Schooner Wrecked, But Crew Safe

After leaving Suva on her voyage here from Australia, R.M.S. Monowai, of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, was diverted from her course to give aid to a shipwrecked crew marooned on a coral-girt isle in the South Pacific.

News of the shipwreck and the fate of the vessel's crew of 18, all of whom were saved, was brought to Victoria by the Monowai, which made port yesterday afternoon from the Antipodes.

Despite the delay the Monowai, was able to make-up the lost time and reached here several hours ahead of schedule.

It was shortly before dawn on June 20 that the burning light of a signal fire attracted the liner to tiny Hull Island of the Phoenix group, 1,800 miles to the southwest of Hawaii and directly in the steamship lanes between Suva and Honolulu. Not far away is Canton Island, where world scientists recently photographed the sun's eclipse.

Capt. Thoms V. Hill, commander of the Monowai, had been advised by radio that the auxiliary copra schooner Makoa, owned by Burns, Philp and Company, was three weeks overdue at Suva, and he was asked to keep a lookout for her.

The Makoa had become a total wreck on the coral reefs of Hull Island.

MET BY CASTAWAYS

As the Monowai approached the island a boatload of castaways, two white men and six natives, was rowed to within hailing distance of the liner.

The ship's officers learned that the schooner was a complete wreck, but that all hands were safe. Only the small boat carrying the castaways had been saved.

Capt. Hill offered to take the shipwrecked seamen aboard the Monowai, but they declined, stating they had sufficient food and preferred to remain on the island until they could be picked up by another ship that would take them to Suva.

The castaways refused further food supplies, but eagerly accepted a bundle of newspapers. In return they presented the captain with a sackful of coconuts.

Capt. Hill said he had been later notified by radio that the liner Niagara, bound from Victoria to Sydney, had picked up the Hull Island castaways.
